DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 9/22/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

As to applicant's argument that Kikuchi fails to disclose or suggest a significant feature of the invention that is "a means for sealing said opening(s) in one or both of said cell-holding well and specimen-holding well for preventing said liquid from an unexpected transportation thereof in said channel while detecting chemotaxis of cells," the examiner respectfully disagrees. As disclosed in the previous office action, Kikuchi clearly teaches the use of several solenoid valves and a vacuum pump that are used to control the movement/flow of fluid, cells and or specimens throughout the device (Page 167 and figure 6).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kikuchi et al. (Microchannel Array Flow Analyzer for measurement of Whole Blood Rheology and Flow Characteristics of Leukocytes Activated by Bacterial Stimulation).

Regarding Claims 1-6, Kikuchi et al disclose an apparatus for detecting chemotaxis of cells with a structure wherein two wells are connected to each other via a channel having resistance to the passage of cells and each well has an opening for injecting cells or a specimen, characterized by having (i) a means of transporting a liquid and a means of stopping the transportation after the injection or the aspiration discharge of the liquid and (2) a means of sealing the opening(s) in one or both of the cell-injection side and the specimen-injection side in that said means of transporting a liquid and stopping the transportation is a member selected from a pulse pump and a syringe and in that said means of sealing the opening is a member selected from among a flexible stopper, a slide-type switching member, a tap, a valve and a combination thereof (Page 167 and Figure 6). With respect to the intended use limitations, the device disclosed by Kikuchi is structurally the same as the instantly claimed device and is capable of providing the operating conditions listed in the intended use section of the claim. Note statements of intended use carry no patentable weight when the structure of the Claim has been met by the prior art reference.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
